PRESS RELEASE

Storytelling Berlin! Berlin erzählt!

First Storytelling Festival in Berlin: 5th – 7th September 2014

The storytelling network “Erzählnetzwerk Berlin” organizes their first Storytelling Festival in Berlin: „Berlin erzählt!“ from 5th – 7th September 2014. The program offers a huge variety of events and is suitable for different age groups: “Creatures of the night”, “Couples”, “Korean Tales and Myths”, “Family afternoon: Sun, Moon and Stars”, “Grim Grimm”, “Loreley – Water Creatures Worldwide”, “Songs of the Alkonost”, “Sex in the City”. The repertoire of the professional storytellers from Berlin covers fairy tales and myths, stories and anecdotes, biographic and literary material. The series Open Doors meets Storytelling offers bilingual and trilingual storytelling sessions exclusively in private lounges. You need to book in advance. Please find more details soon on our website: www-berlin-erzaehlt.de

Hosts for the storytelling events are galleries, cafes, book shops, private lounges, markets and family meeting points in seven different areas of Berlin a.o.: Under The Mangoo Tree & Sektion Berlin Brandenburg der Heinrich Heine Gesellschaft / Stiftung Olbricht / Gelbe Villa / Brotfabrik/ UFA-Fabrik / Koreanisches Kulturzentrum/ Lauter Eis / Café Pausini/ Markt auf dem Winterfeldtplatz / Buchhandlung am Tierpark.

Central event is “Ein Sack voller Geschichten” (“A Bag Full of Stories”) Long Night of Storytelling with the participating storytellers of the festival. It takes place on 6th September 2014 8pm, Nachbarschaftshaus Friedenau.

Storytelling events for the whole family:

- „Das Kleine ganz groß“, Geschichten beim Satt Essen, Familienbrunch in der UFA-Fabrik, am Sonntag, 7. September ab 11.00 Uhr.
- Märchenfest "Sonne, Mond und Sterne" im Garten des Nachbarschaftshauses Friedenau, am Sonntag, 7. September 2014, 14.00 Uhr

Berlin erzählt! cooperates with "Erzählkunst e.V." and "Open Doors Berlin".
